AHDA Conference and Exhibition 2018

Enhancing Professional Standards

Wednesday 17th and Thursday 18th January 2018

Have you booked your place at the AHDA Conference and Exhibition yet? If not all the full programme details and booking information can be found at www.ahda.co.uk/ahda-conference-2018/ don't delay book today.

We are very pleased to return to the Hilton Birmingham Metropole Hotel for the AHDA Conference that enables us to welcome the delegates over the two days, host the exhibition hall of around 50 animal health exhibitors from across the UK and provide you with a cross section of speakers that cover a wide range of relevant interest areas. On top of the speaker programme and exhibition hall, AHDA pre books accommodation at the hotel on both the evening prior to the conference and also on the Wednesday evening, so delegates can attend both full days of the event and have accommodation within the same building.

The 2018 event will see a number of key changes to the AHDA Conference and Exhibition, particularly to the layout of the Exhibition Hall and speaker rooms that we use. For 2018 all the halls are adjacent to each other, with the Exhibition Hall linked by a tunnel through to the main speaker hall. This will make moving around the event much easier and provide better access to the Exhibition Hall and speaker rooms.

Speakers

We have an exciting range of speakers for both the Wednesday and the Thursday, with Thursday having the two separate workshops as the 2017 event, so dedicated speakers covering The VMD, Farm Animals, Dogs, Cats, and Communication skills, to name a few. The sessions over the two days for SQPs give a total of around 47 CPD points.
